

ladies and gentlemen i got a banger or video for you today we have so much to cover palantir incredible news tesla new price target updates we have more banks with their hand in the cookie jar with the archaic's capital more information coming out we have apple being downgraded and some news about teledog that have been misrepresented in mainstream media which i want to clarify so a lot of bangers hang tight and if this is your first time here the pace is a little bit fast as you can see but it's good i don't need to click nothing it's not smash nothing just listen up i just want your attention don't do anything just listen by the way my name is tom i used to be a senior financial analyst now i'm a full-time youtuber giving you my knowledge about the stock market the economics the financial world all that good stuff just listen up don't do anything now check this out for the first story of the day we gotta talk about tesla we have some incredible news coming out with regards to tesla now as you remember redbush actually upgraded their tesla price target two one thousand dollars a few days ago including a thirteen hundred dollar price target for the bulk case now wet bush is a known bull on tesla so no huge surprises there and this isn't the piece of news i'm about to talk to in this video now what i do want to point out in this video is that sawyer merit put out on his twitter feed this now sawyer merit has been on the channel before this is the second time he's legit go follow the guy and according to swear merit this is what happened morgan stanley pulled out allegedly this newsletter to their clients saying and i'm quoting we believe our investors face greater risk not owning tesla and their portfolios rather than owning tesla shares in their portfolio essentially what it means it's much riskier not to get tesla shares these days than actually getting it according to morgan stanley based on this tweet from sawyer merit i don't know if it's legit or not but this guy seems legit so i tend to believe it but again we need some more confirmation now this is huge because unlike what bush morgan stanley are not really well known to be as a huge tesla bull and for them to make this statement you have to understand that this went through a lot of cycles of approvals lawyers risk officers a lot of people had to sign off on them saying that for them to say that it means they have 150 confidence that this is very accurate otherwise they're gonna be in a world of pain if this doesn't pan out and where do i stand on this from 10 000 feet high very simply in two sentences first of all i think that a lot of investors institutional and retail investors alike are now gradually starting to understand that tesla should have never been included in the tech sell-off of mid-february they have nothing to do with the extremely speculative companies that people sold off they have a completely different approach completely different business model and they're in such a stage that they're pretty much about to take over their entire industry now that is not a bad thing because for me it represents an opportunity to buy more shares at a better price which i'll be doing this week even more but you gotta do you durian research and all that stuff let's move on to the second piece of news and now let's talk about palantir this is incredible palantir according to this reddit post are now being offered a sole contract by the air force nuclear weapon center to provide data services essentially what it means in simple english is that the air force basically says well we can ask for proposals because literally there's no company in the god damn universe that can provide these services that is why we directly offering this contract only to piloteer they're the only ones who can do this job if that reminds you things i've said in the past few weeks you're not mistaken because i've literally been preaching this that patent here is the only competitor in this whole new category which it created nobody comes close and here's the cool part the reddit post also includes a link to the actual so-called proposal i don't know how authentic that is i'm not going to take responsibility but if this thing is legit if it's authentic oh my goodness so check this out now this modification will be executed via limited sources justification in accordance with whatever rule the justification being only one source is capable of providing the supplies of services required at the level of quality required because the suppliers or the services are unique or highly specialized oh my goodness if this thing is legit this is pretty much the air force saying well the only company in the universe that can provide us these data services at that level of quality is piloteer so no use even asking for bids from other companies that proves every single thing we said about palantir and that proves that all y'all day traders day trader mentality people shouting in my comments well palantirs downtown are completely short-sighted and now let's talk about apple and it seems that even apple is not immune from mainstream media nonsense and googly goo undefined and the whole story is that morgan stanley reduced the target price for this stock from 164 to 156 still staying at the same rating essentially saying well it's not 164 it's 156. if you actually read the entire report which most of you won't do and i'm assuming a lot of mainstream media reporters won't do you can actually see that in the report they're saying pretty much the same thing i said in my video from one month ago you can go and check it out that apple is phasing out from hardware to services margins are gonna be better growth is gonna be better it's definitely trending towards services and that's a good thing for apple new growth engines for apple are coming and the only reason that they're reducing this price isn't because something fundamentally has changed with apple no bad news in fact only good news but because their competitors their peers are trading at lower multiples essentially ev2 ebitda ev2 sales all that multiples that's why they think that it should be priced a little bit lower at 156.

and if you just take a look at tip ranks right here i'm going to show you something interesting by the way i've been using tip ranks for about a year if you're watching my videos you know i've been using it in pretty much every single video i do if you want to subscribe and get their premium package there's going to be an affiliate link below you'll be supporting the channel and now i'm going to show you something cool is apple really in trouble well not really let me show you so these are the top analysts these are the five star ones as you can see every single one every single one of them actually has a buy rating with an upside everyone thinks that this share is on their price undervalued does this mean that apple is a bad stock does this mean that apple is overvalued does this mean that morgan stanley reducing from 164 to 156 mean anything no looking at that is really important once you read the headlines if you just read the headlines you might think well apple's in trouble apple's downgraded no the entire community is saying that apple is actually undervalued by a lot look at these percentages my target price for apple is 170 them going from 164 to 156 is pretty much meaningless it's fluff who cares oh my goodness it seems that morgan stanley have pulled a fast one on the entire market of course i'm talking about the archaic's capital meltdown aftermath it seems that morgan stanley wore the party that actually jumped the gun before this whole thing panned out they had a gentleman's agreement reportedly accordingly allegedly with these other banks to slowly sell off without people noticing and instead of following the gentleman's agreement these guys have broken out of the pack and actually screwed credit swiss and goldman sachs by selling 5 billion worth of shares on the night before the block sales now essentially this was the trigger once they did it the other guys rushed through the door and this whole thing started so it seems that morgan stanley actually pulled the fast one on credit twist and goldman sachs but that's not the only piece of news look at who they sold it to i'm gonna read you from this article it seems that they sold it on march 25th the night before the massive cell securities and look at this they sold it to a small group of hedge funds now they actually made these hedge funds think look at this at a discount morgan stanley actually sold the lemon to these hedge funds making them think they're getting a great deal they basically told them well here's a camaro at fifteen thousand dollars and these guys are oh yeah what a great deal and they open up the hood the next day and it doesn't have an engine but so do i think morgan stanley will get sued by these guys i think some of these hedge funds might i don't know might have a case against morgan stanley if morgan stanley knew material information about this stock and they should have told the buyer to beware and they didn't they hit stuff like for example the khmer not having an engine the other party might be able to sue you i don't know so we might see some lawsuits from these hedge funds according to what i'm seeing here they might sue morgan stanley who knows but this was one hell of a 4d chess move for morgan stanley to pull a fast one on the entire market and now moving on to another piece of news proving how mainstream media is all about the headlines the sensationalism and not about the actual news teledoc starts q2 with 61 million of insider selling oh my goodness glenn tullman a director at teledog health has sold 61 million worth of company stock you would think that this thing means that glenn thinks the company's trash him selling these shares right now means he doesn't have faith in the company that means you should be selling too not necessarily don't believe the you read mainstream media what happened here in mainstream media is not telling you is that glenn had an expiring option agreement that should have expired on april 30th within 23 days if he doesn't exercise these options within the next three weeks they they go away but here's the kicker when you exercise options you go out of pocket you got to pay for the actual execution of the options you buying shares so immediately he sold it off as planned by the way nothing was surprising everybody knew that this is a planned move so essentially he exercised the shares he actually paid some money and immediately sold the stock to cover his out of pocket so whenever people talking about insider selling you got to be careful and see what the real story is because i think here with teledoc it's not the entire story you gotta look at it with context as always huge thanks for the channel members and the patrons for making this possible
