

what's up guys so I'm super excited to make this video for you guys today cuz I got some absolutely incredible companies that I want to share with you and I can almost guarantee you that you've likely haven't heard of at least one or two of these companies ever before because some of these are not very well known companies at all and are hardly talked about by the mainstream media yet they are all positioning themselves to absolutely dominate their respective industries and in doing so will bring us as investors some huge ass gains also I'd appreciate an early thumbs up as it really helps with the YouTube algorithm and these videos do take a really long time to make but that being said let's not waste any more time and let's get right into it so today we'll be covering three high growth stocks all of which have massive upside potential and all of which you should be at the very least keeping an eye on or considering buying into now in July and whenever and make these monthly videos I always try my very best to include some hidden gems that not many people are talking about at all at the moment because that's usually where some of the biggest opportunities lie just imagine if you had invested into Amazon or even PayPal way back in the early days how much money you would have made by now well with that being said that's actually the perfect segue into our first stock so without further ado the first stock I want to introduce you guys to is a company called free limited ticker symbol S II now the best way I can describe this company to you is just imagine if Amazon PayPal and Activision were all mixed up together and became just one company sounds pretty surreal huh but that's literally what C is doing because they are a gaming company and e-commerce platform and a digital payments platform all in one now they operate primarily in South East Asia and also Latin America so that's most likely why many of you guys haven't heard of them before and why this stock has been flying under the radar for many you

as investors but trust me when I say that they are absolutely dominating these markets in a major way and are expanding quickly also this pandemic that going on right now worldwide has only added rocket fuel and accelerated their growth even more just like it did for companies like Amazon in the US but even in a bigger way foresee and it shows in the numbers but real quick let's simplify things even further so see is mainly comprised of three major parts first is Garena which is their gaming platform which allows users to access mobile and PC games online and they have been absolutely crushing it with this division and actually it is now one of the fastest-growing video game companies in the world going from revenues of 328 million to 863 million in a span of just three years and this year it's looking like they're going to double those numbers because they're self-developed free-fire game ended up being the highest-grossing mobile game in all of Southeast Asia and Latin America resulting in them earning 512 million dollars in adjusted revenue for Q1 of 2020 from their digital entertainment segment alone next up is their e-commerce platform called Shoppi which is changing the way that sellers connect with shoppers online and its growth has been impressive to say the least with growth orders up over a hundred and forty percent in April alone and they ended the first quarter with 314 million dollars in revenue from their e-commerce platform which is a whopping 110 percent year-over-year growth numbers like these are almost unheard of and the most important thing to keep in mind is that Shop II was just launched in 2015 so it's literally a baby that is barely 5 years old so investing in them now would be like the equivalent of investing in Amazon in its infancy in the early 2000s and this is actually the segment of their business that excites me the most because it's still so early on and they still have so much room to grow and here's the kicker they don't even need to expand out of South East Asia and yet still be able to grow tremendously in fact a report that just recently came out by Bain & Company and Google highlighted that today there's about 40 billion dollars of e-commerce that goes on in the region but by 2025 five years down the road that is expected to skyrocket to north of a hundred and fifty billion so see doesn't even need to think about expanding to other regions anytime soon cuz it could still quadruple or more just within Southeast Asia pull so let's not forget see money which is just the icing on the cake at this point and it's the third segment of their business which is their payment processing services and it should come as no surprise to you that with the pandemic going on and people flocking to online payments business has been booming big house business booming I like that with over 10 million quarterly paying users for their mobile wireless services and a record-breaking payment volume of over a billion dollars in the first quarter alone combine this with the fact that the company is focused on integrating see money with shoppi and you could be looking at a ginormous opportunity here going forward now with numbers like these it's no surprise that the stock has been on an absolute rampage currently trading at about a hundred and seventeen dollars up over two hundred percent since the beginning of the year so it's already a big but this company just has so much growth ahead of itself that I could easily see this stock doubling or even tripling if not more over the next two to three years but one thing to keep in mind is that this company is still not profitable mainly because they are investing heavily into sales and marketing to expedite the growth even faster which I'm not too worried about because that is what most fast-growing companies do early on just like Amazon did for many years so I definitely recommend you add C to your watch list and perhaps consider starting a position now moving on to my second stock pick and this is a company that I think is extremely undervalued and I think they are going to surprise a lot of people with their q2 earnings report and that company is upward ticker symbol you pwk now if you're not familiar with upwork think of them like the uber for hiring in the sense that if you need a project or a quick task done you can find a professional freelancer from anywhere in the world in a matter of minutes and have them get started on your project right away now as someone who runs a software company for many years I can't tell you how much of an absolute lifesaver upwork has been for me whether it was for a quick project I needed done or even for a full-time position up work has been the solution time and time again and the amount of talent on their platform is insane some of the most incredible people I have worked with I found them on up work but here's where things get really interesting for this company so as you know it Roni Rona has absolutely changed life as we know it completely whether we like it or not and some of these changes aren't just temporary but in fact permanent with massive companies like Twitter and Square informing their employees that they can continue to work from home forever and a multitude of other companies like Facebook Google and Shopify making similar declarations in which they will be moving a good portion of their workforce to work remotely for the foreseeable future also during a recent conference call up work CEO Hayden Brown announced that in the month of April up work was seeing record-breaking hiring activity and that they shattered all of their previous records in terms of client registrations and new job postings on their platform so this company just has such a massive opportunity ahead of themselves and they're almost a perfect hedge against a pandemic which by the way is still far from over in fact California just announced that it's now requiring all restaurants movie theaters and malls to immediately close all indoor operations as the state saw a significant increase in its positivity rate now I really hope we don't end up getting a second wave of this thing but if we do you can bet that companies like upwork will benefit tremendously in that scenario so let's get into the numbers a Brooke is currently trading at 14 dollars and 37 cents up more than double since falling down to the five dollar range back in March when the markets crashed but still down from its 52-week high of 17 dollars and 75 cents and during q1 revenue grew 20 per 1 percent year-over-year to 83 million dollars and even more impressive they were able to expand the gross margins to 72 percent also with the accelerated growth since the pandemic they are now projecting 20% year-over-year growth for the next couple of years minimum and I wouldn't be surprised if they do much better than than this as I think this is still a very conservative number for them and even more so just this week they have announced a major partnership with Citrix to build a joint software product that can onboard and manage remote talent to help meet the needs of some of their more massive customers such as the likes of Microsoft so yeah it goes without saying that I definitely recommend you add up work to your watch list and maybe even consider investing in them because it just seems that almost everything is starting to align perfectly for this company to thrive and I see them having a huge year so now for my third and final pick for my top high girl stocks for July of 2020 and that company is tortoise acquisition Corp ticker symbol s H ll now I know that I just recently dropped a full in-depth breakdown of this company just a few days ago but I just had to mention them here today because guys I am just becoming more and more bullish on this company the more research I do but more on that later so real quick for those of you who are not familiar with s n H ll they are scheduled to merge with a Eevee commercial trucking company called Hylan in just a couple of months and basically think of them as niccola but with actual real products ok ok I'm just messing with you guys but no seriously this company is the real deal Holyfield and their tech is no joke it even beats out Tesla's much-anticipated upcoming semi truck in a lot of key metrics such as the seven-year total cost of ownership coming in at only two hundred and eighty thousand dollars which is almost 40% cheaper than Tesla who's coming in at around four hundred and thirty eight thousand dollars and let's not even talk about Nikola whose total costs are more than two times as expensive and not even remotely competitive - hi Leon but guys I'm not going to go too in depth on hi Leon in this video because like I mentioned before I literally just dropped a full 16 minute video just a few days ago where I break down every single important tidbit of information that you need to know about this company it's in that video so if you haven't watched it I highly recommend you check it out right now because this is a stock that's currently trading at around twenty seven dollars a share and while this is definitely more of a speculative riskier play I could see this doc easily trading at five to ten times its current market price within the next two to three years because Derrick Tech is just that good and that much more dominate over their competitors so if I'll question this is a company that you should be at the very least learning about while it's still early because I have a feeling that you'll be hearing a lot about them in the coming months now if you found any value in this video at all and I hope you did please consider dropping a like that would really help out this video and this channel and I would appreciate it greatly and as always I love talking to you guys and I always reply to every single comment so let me know your thoughts on my stock picks and let me know what stocks you want me to talk about next in the comments section below because I might just make a video on the stocks you suggest also make sure to subscribe and turn on that notification spell because I released two value-packed videos every single week but as always guys especially if you washed up until this point you are the real MVP and I appreciate you guys so much and I love you guys and I hope you all have a one the full rest of your week peace
